

Railroad speed sensors

Developed for the requirements of the railroad industry, these speed sensors are used to provide anti-slip, anti-skid protection, and monitoring for vehicle speed and distance. Can withstand stress caused by impacts, vibrations and wide temperature fluctuations. Type tested to railroad standards. Available with one to three channels measuring frequencies from 0 to 25 kHz. Certified under ISO 9001.

Sensor Products, Inc.

www.sensorprod.com